PORTFOLIO: michelaparma.com

RIMINI OLD SCHOOL | riminioldschool.herokuapp.com

It is my thesis project that concerns the recovery of Rimini's history linked to the 70s, 80s and 90s through the memories and stories of the people who lived through that period, a period that allowed the city to be remembered as Italian Las Vegas.

PARALLELS | parallels-dhdk.github.io/

It is a website that offers several switchable themes related to the history of printing. Every detail (font family, font size, colors, margins, page size, images, captions) are designed to exactly remind a specific historical design style.

NICE TO MET YOU | nicetometyou.github.io/

Idea for new exhibition rooms inside the MET - Ethnographic Museum of the Uses and Customs of the People of Romagna.

LA DOLCE VITA | fellini-lod.github.io/

Linked Open Data model that focuses on the production and distribution of the movie La Dolce Vita (1960 - F. Fellini) through the analysis of metadata standards.

DIV-O | div-o.github.io/

Dante Inferno V Ontology is a specific ontology for the analysis of the Divina Commedia. The aim of the project is to extract knowledge from Divina Commedia of Dante and to convert it into a Link Open Data environment.

MY HOBBIES

- I love acting: I have never studied acting and my first experience on an amateur theatre stage was three years ago in England, acting in English. This experience allowed me to improve my speaking and english skills but also to face many challenges and made me grow especially in teamwork.
- I love dogs: I love any kind of dog, but I have always had small dogs, like chihuahuas. Two years ago I obtained the national dog sitter licence, a professional qualification that allows me to meet many other people.
- I love cooking: I like to experiment with different international recipes in the kitchen, but what I do best are Italian recipes!
